

Use your creative writing and oral communication skills to improve our patient outreach effort!

| | |
|-----------------|--|
| Project Title | Use your creative writing and oral communication skills to improve our patient outreach effort! |
| Project Summary | Use your creative communication skills to turn complex medical terms and chronic conditions into short, informative, engaging, and attention-grabbing, articles and radio presentations. |
| Country | United States |

Project Description

We are seeking motivated interns to help us design and produce an engaging and easy to read Quarterly Newsletter and monthly radio segment. The oral content is to be played on the local reservation's radio station and the newsletter will be disseminated to our patients in the healthcare facility. These materials should aim to educate and empower patients to become engaged in their own care by providing tools that can help them to take action. In addition, we want to communicate to our patients about the services, staff departments, and resources we offer.

Required Skills or Interests

| |
|--------------------------------|
| Skill(s) |
| Design thinking |
| Editing and proofreading |
| Educational design |
| Graphic design |
| Marketing |
| Research |
| Speech writing |
| Storytelling/blogging/vlogging |
| Writing |

Additional Information

We encourage out of the box thinking while supporting and motivating each other to always push for a better outcome. Do you think there is a better way to communicate our information and reach our goals? We are open to suggestions and love new ideas.

Language Requirements

None